

California State College, Bakersfield

9001 STOCKDALE HIGHWAY • BAKERSFIELD, CALIFORNIA 93309

May 25, 1972

Urantia Brotherhood
533 Diversey Parkway
Chicago, Illinois 60614

Dear Sirs:

As indicated on the attached notice, my colleague Professor Philip Calabrese and I will be offering a course based upon The Urantia Book next fall. We have both been reading and studying the book for about two years now and are most enthusiastic about this venture. Perhaps you can tell me whether such a course has been offered for college credit elsewhere. It is my strong feeling that, in the future, there will be many more; so, perhaps, this is something of a beginning.

I wish to submit, for your consideration, a request for a gift copy of The Urantia Book for the campus library. While many of the students in the class will probably wish to purchase their own copy at some time, it will certainly be advantageous to have a copy available, probably on a reserve basis, in the library. I make this request for this reason and because, as far as I know, there is no library allocation from which such a purchase could be made.

Best wishes,

Robert W. Hunt

Robert W. Hunt, Chairman
Department of Mathematics

RWH:mg

cc: P. Calabrese, Assistant Professor of Mathematics
B. Scheide, Director of the Library

Copy to Julius Henderson

NOTICE

Place: California State College, Bakersfield - Room TC 100

Course: G.E. 277-9 (Bulletin Board Course, One Credit Unit)

Title: An Introduction to The Urantia Book

Times: 8-10 PM, alternate Monday evenings beginning Sept. 25, 1972

Instructors: Phil Calabrese & Bob Hunt of the Mathematics Dept.

Prerequisites: Although the Urantia Book delves deeply into such topics as science, philosophy, and religion, no special background is necessary. Also, it will not be necessary to purchase the book.

"IN THE MINDS of the mortals of Urantia - that being the name of your world - there exists great confusion respecting the meanings of such terms as God, divinity, and deity."

(from the Foreward of The Urantia Book)

With these words, The Urantia Book begins the fifth epochal revelation of truth to mortals living on this planet. The fourth such revelation was the bestowal life of our local universe Creator Son, Michael, as Jesus, son of Mary and Joseph.

In this course, both general and specific aspects of this amazing book will be presented and discussed.