

Georgia:

Here are some changes I suggest on this sheet. The concept is very good --to get the whole thing on one sheet so you can see it at a glance. The changes I'm suggesting are mostly for consistency. In the last column it seems misleading to head it "Supreme Trinity Pers." for that applies only to the 1st three. The next three are not Sup.Trin.Pers. I'd leave out the 2 Ambassadors, the Union and Faithful of Days, because there doesn't seem to be room for them. But if you put them on, they should be labeled as ambassadors, for they are not rulers.

I'd suggest taking the whole last line off, because all the rest is administrative organization and the solar system is a physical system, not an administrative unit. All solar systems don't have 12 planets. Urantia is not the capital of the solar system. It is just an inhabited world, and the only one as far as we know. Also, technically, Michael has the title of Planetary Prince, but he is not the ruler. It is the resident governor~~s~~ general, one of the 24 Counselors. So, for beginners, it seems a little misleading, for it's not consistent with the rest of the chart.

This was originally marked out by the L.A. Society. I made a couple of corrections and had it printed.
