Dear Meredith:

I am sending you an article written by Arnold Zachow, which he seemed to feel you would enjoy. Copy of his letter of April 11, 1972, is with it. I gave the article originally to Alvin and I'm giving you a copy of my note to him.

Edith read part of this and discovered many errors. Alvin agreed with Edith and said he was trying to rewrite the Urantia Book. I wrote him acknowledging receipt of the article, saying it was way beyond me, but I was passing it on to others who might be interested. No one has pointed out to him that he is in error and I doubt if we should bother. We have tried to correct him several times ~~but for~~ and it has no effect.

When you have finished it, you might return it to me with your comments and we will file it. Don't go to any great trouble to evaluate it, for I'm quite sure we will do nothing about it.

It was good to see you and Irene, but we had no time to talk. Thank you for writing out your speech and distributing it to everyone. That's one we won't have to reproduce, because everyone presumably got a copy. A number of people asked me for yours, but of course they already have it.

Sincerely,

Marian Rowley

P.S. If you have any extras of the speech, you might send them to me, in case someone says they didn't get it. Julia, for one, said she didn't get one.

Dear Marian:

Thank you for sending Mr. Zachow's article. I cannot follow his thinking. It appears that he has arbitrarily taken some Urantian cosmological concepts and attempts to relate certain data from astrophysics to these concepts. It seems to me that he has very weak logic for "dragging in" his cosmological picture. Am returning the article for your files.

We enjoyed all of the presentations at the Summer Study Session. Vern always does an excellent job and I was particularly impressed with the excellence of Paul's talk. Am enclosing an outline for Julia. Sorry we didn't get time to talk. The way activities are increasing at 533 Diversey, I know you are hard pressed to keep up with everything. But we do appreciate your efficient handling of Brotherhood responsibilities.

Cordially,
