

School

October 22, 1974

Dear Meredith:

Rather than trying to write a big long thing about your memos of 9/3 and 9/26 on the Committee on Education I have made a few notes along the margins of your memos and am sending a xerox of the whole thing. I'm afraid I'm not much help.

More important than the resurrection of the school, I believe, is the need for decisions about next year's summer study session - and whether there should be a work shop preceding it. If it is decided to have a workshop of several days and it is to be held at Kendall, it is important to pin the dates down with them

Instead of having a single theme for the study session, I think a mixture, such as we had last year, is good. At least, most people seemed to like that last year.

If you have time, you might want to read the folder I have of comments on ~~last year's~~ this year's meeting. I also have a folder of problems and suggestions for next year.

I'm afraid this isn't of much help to you, but anyhow here it is.

Sincerely,

Marian Rowley
