Tribute to

“SERVICE—

purposeful service, not slavery — is productive of the highest satisfaction and is expressive of the highest dignity.

Service —
more service,
increased service,
difficult service, adventurous service,
and at last divine and perfect service —
is the goal of time and the destination
of space.”

President Emeritus

Mon 7-19-

Sue and David,

dear dear friends,

Warm and heartfelt
thanks to you for the beautiful orange and gold centerpieces. It still is gracing my dining table and giving us great joy.
When I say "us" we have had much company.

One man is from India
but here in U.S. doing 3 pictures. He's a film maker and writer named Veda Nayakam. He is from southern India where he feels sure David and Gloria are from. He wants to build a temple there dedicated to the universal Father

Want you to see door memo.

We read the Wreath Book together and discussed it from many viewpoints He is a scholar of the U. S. but he feels it is for the dim future and for scholars only.

I want him to meet
Gard Jameson and I see.

The party on Friday was simply superb but I became almost embarrassed because it was so centered around me.

The Foundation and Brotherhood sent very beautiful tributes which I want to have permanent.

Many many thanks for your good wishes and the lovely flowers.

Much love to G.

Julia
