

EVOLUTION BLUES

Bout a trillion years ago
The Lord made an energy whirl
Bout one billion year ago
You could ~~start to~~ ^{clearly} see our little old world
It was wobblin all around and a-steamin up a storm
And then the rains came down and the oceans formed
And then the land sprung up; and they gave out the news
We were ready for the evolution blues

Don't let your ice age
Don't let your polar shift
Don't let your violet race
Don't let your continental drift
Just a-keep on spinning around
Keep on makin that day and night
Don't Get your dino sore and
Don't let your trilo bite.

Bout half a billion years ago
They ~~said let's~~ put-a-little life on this world
They started with the seaweed and amoebas and the squid
And they added some ferns and little froggies--yes they did!
And some dinosaurs and elephants and kangaroos
And they were doin so fine they got nothin to lose
So they made a man and woman (cuz they always come in twos)
And then we really got the evolution blues.

(CHORUS)

Bout half a million years ago
Lucifer he shout an evil curse
Nearly 40 thousand years ago
Adam and Eve...they just make things worse
Bout four thaousand years ago
Melchizedek come and he give the good news
Then come one they called the King of the Jews
And he ended those evolution blues

(CHORUS)
