

ETERNITY

1. Eternity, the circle of perfection,
Ever turning in your ageless, endless way,
You're the light of everlasting love and endless light
Who came down to vivify us and to say,

"I am the Father of the universe.
I'm the light that lights the life of every man,
And together we shall live throughout the universe,
And you'll never be so limited again."

2. Throughout the endless ages of the circle,
All awaited God the Father's great decree,
"Let us, in our image, make the mankind mortals now
That forever they may live on high with me.

I am the Source of all the universe.
I'm the light that lights the life of every man,
And together we shall fly throughout the universe,
And you'll never be so limited again."

3. Unchanging in the universal circle,
All that ever will be, ever was, and is
Circles endlessly around the master universe,
And within the heart of every mortal lives.

"I am the Center of the universe.
I'm the light that lights the life of every man,
And together we shall circle through the universe.
No, you'll never be so limited again."

4. Eternity, forever-living endlessness,
You are ours and we are yours and we are one,
For we live within the Father and he lives in us.
Of the Everlasting Father we are sons.

"I am the Father of the universe.
I'm the light that lights the life of every man,
And together we'll create another universe.
You will never be so limited again."
