Dear Dr. Sprunger,

Please forgive me for not answering your letters sooner, but about three weeks ago, when I was given two separate assignments to present before the Society at Diversay and before a group in the suburbs, I told myself I would give all my time to their preparation. I gave my first one before the group at Diversay yesterday, and it was a rewarding experience. So often do I envy you ministers with a flock; I want to be a preacher so much. I'll simply have to await the turn of events.

I would have been down yesterday anyway if I had not had the leadership of the forum yesterday. I am so anxious to have a first-hand report of your doings and progress; I agree with you it sometimes takes the wisdom of Solomon to know the best way to do things. The growth of the Urantia movement is a pure and simple evolutionary development and I sometimes wish they would have given us a little more guidance. But then that wouldn't have been right either.

I will return the manuscripts as soon as I get one of them back -- I gave it to a friend and I told him he must return it to me and he will. It was a masterly job, and of course by now I know all about the copyright problem. I was told you were coming in to see Dr. Sadler this Thursday.

I continue to go each Sunday to a different denomination, I leave a book, I write a letter, but I've heard from none of them except Grauer. I really think they are reading it. I wish I had time to tell you about their sermons and the remarks they made when I gave them the book.

I'll come down one of these Sundays soon. My regards to your family.

Yasen Fawcett*
