Patriotic Luncheon at West End Club Lincoln's Birthday

LINCOLN'S birthday will be celebrated by the West End Woman's club on Tuesday by a patriotic luncheon at 12:30 p. m. at the clubrooms, 37 South Ashland boulevard. The club has for many years celebrated Lincoln's birthday with a patriotic luncheon and meeting, but this year the celebration will be more especially patriotic than usual. The luncheon, for instance, will be one in which the food administration could find absolutely no patriotic fault. A talk will be given by Lieut. Nalmsmith of the Canadian field artillery on his experiences at the front.

The West End Woman's club was organized in 1893 with its objects "mutual counsel and entertainment, literary, musical, educational, and philanthropic work and social and municipal reform." It was organized with a membership of almost 200. That membership rose during the palmy days of the west side to over 500, but it has now decreased to 290.

The work of the club is done largely by two departments, the art and education department and the civics and philanthropy department. The club chorus does its special musical work. The Daughters of the West End Woman's club serves "in every useful way the cause of the mother club."

The art and education department, with Mrs. G. A. Oslinga as chairman, Mrs. J. C. Wintermeyer as vice chairman, Mrs. Verna Roy Day as secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. E. H. Daley as social chairman, has added to its list of functions the collection of books and magazines for soldiers and sailors and the subscriptions to several magazines which have been sent to the camps.

The artists of the Tres Studio building have in the club, through the department, to a tea on Saturday, Feb. 23. The day will be in charge of Mrs. William Frederick Grover and Mrs. George W. Strell.

With the Arché club the West End Woman's club stimulated the original club support of the Municipal Art League.

Under the civics and philanthropy department every year ten or more charitable societies receive the support of the club members. This year 100 garments and a cash donation were given to the Needlework Guild of America. Christmas baskets were distributed also. The work of the club immediately after the World's Fair resulted, according to the traditions of the club, in the establishment of a bureau of charities which grew into the Associated Charities.

Since June the club has conducted Red Cross auxiliary No. 46 and has made its share of garments and knitted goods. Friday is especially Red Cross day, although the work is being done all the time. A special knitting class is held Thursday evenings at the home of Mrs. S. E. Falls, 2809 Washington boulevard. Thursday evening of this week Mrs. Frank D. Moore, 800 South Oakley boulevard, has invited members interested in sewing for the Red Cross to be her guests.

The West End Woman's club was the first club to establish a club chorus. The leader of the chorus

Mrs. Kenneth Goodman Mrs. Catharine Waugh McCulloch

Mrs. Kenneth Sawyer Goodman is one of the patronesses and box holders at the big Jackie hockey game which will be held at the arena tomorrow night for the benefit of the Jackie recreational fund. Mrs. Catharine Waugh McCulloch is one of the workers in the women's committee, Council of National Defense, for the success of the Smileage book campaign.

This year is Mrs. Rosseter G. Cole. It gave a concert this season which resulted in a fund of $100 for Red Cross work. On March 15 a spring festival of the club will be held under the auspices of the chorus.

The Daughters of the Club have provided layettes for the babies who are sponsored by the club. The club has an endowed bed in the Presbyterian hospital which is used only for wives and mothers of sailors and soldiers. Kits were made for many soldiers and sailors and they have been invited to the parties which the Daughters have given.

The officers of the club are: President, Mrs. Richard Hunt Brown; first vice president, Mrs. James L. Clark; second vice president, Mrs. H. T. Bowers; recording secretary, Mrs. William W. Norrie; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. W. Van Arsdale, and treasurer, Mrs. N. L. Lenham.

A men's auxiliary for the Red Cross has been organized by the Oak Park Woman's club. On the opening day of the auxiliary last Monday there was a large attendance. In the afternoon the men made 750 surgical dressings and in the evening 1,500 more. All men and women in Oak Park are asked to join in this work and come tomorrow prepared with apron, shears, and table knife. The headquarters are at Harrison street and Oak Park avenue.

A mock sausage has been offered in the woman's committee messer contest, which closes today. It is made of beans and bread and seasoned so that it tastes like sausage. Horticultural bean loaf is another recipe sent to the committee. It is created by a skillful amalgamation of beans, tomatoes, and bread crumbs.

Miss Elizabeth Adsl, who has just finished the business course, has volunteered six mornings a week for typewriting and clerical work at the social service department of the Council of National Defense.

The United States Daughters of 1812 did not organize for war work until November, 1917, because the members were almost without exception working with other clubs or with Red Cross auxiliaries. In November, however, a unit for war work was organized, with the sole object of furnishing knitted articles in response to special appeals. Mrs. Morton W. Thompson of 5022 Drexel boulevard was made chairman and during the two months which have elapsed since the unit was established has forwarded approximately 150 knitted garments, many of them to a base hospital at one of the frontiers, for convalescent men.

FUN FOR FIGHTERS

Smileage Books Let Soldiers See Plays at Army Camps.

This is the cover of a Smileage Book. The coupons are exchanged for admission tickets at the camp theaters and Liberty tents. If you want to send theater tickets to a soldier, buy a book and mail it to him.

THIS has been Smileage Book week, with every one in town bombarded with the smiles of pretty soldiers or wearing the smile of having done his duty by sending a smileage book to some soldier. The campaign in Chicago has been successful and the military entertainment council and the military entertainment council has been much pleased with the work.

The military entertainment council is a special commission appointed by the secretary of war as a branch of the war department commission on training camp activities. Its work is to provide programs of entertainment for the officers of the men in the uniform of the United States now in national guard camps and national army cantonments on this side of the Atlantic.

For the present the work does not reach to the smaller army camps or to any of the navy camps.

Ordinarily the cost of booking such attractions would be prohibitive. The performers and managers of the United States have met the council with such patriotic cooperation as to put these productions within the reach of every soldier in the United States.

Plans are now in the making to revive the musical comedies and light operas which the men have liked to see in the theaters of Adams and William Faversham, as soon as those leading actors heard of the Smileage project.

Four vaudeville bills have been assembled by General Manager E. J. Albee of the Keith circuit. The bookings will be arranged, of course, so as to prevent an unvaried succession in any camp of any one kind of entertainment.

In the regiments are scores of professional actors and vaudeville performers. The men manifest special interest in seeing their own comrades on the stage. So there are to be regular amateur productions, between the professional and the vaudeville, and much more importance than what they have gone to the front they may be able to provide suitable program for themselves.

The Chautauqua managers are planning to present their best lecture series. They will probably divide time with the best programs of moving pictures. As soon as it can be arranged, the circuit may be widened to include the smaller army camps and the national training stations.

The TRIBUNE'S WEEKLY ALMANACK FEBRUARY

The Intimation. FEBRUARY sunlight is the insistent token of spring. Its luminous clarity, even if it merely brightens and does not melt the fine siftings of snow on top of the drifts, even if it contains no warmth, but suffuses air tingling below zero, is an intimation. It is an intimation which prevails against cold and is radiant in spite of it. To carry the suggestion of impending, even imminent, change in such conditions, is the rare quality of the peculiar February brightness. The intimation is of the song of the meadow lark from a snow filled field, of the blue bird on a post, of the hermit thrush scurrying through the brown leaves, of the first song of the wood thrush, of the swelling red and yellow buds, of pussy willows, black streams cutting through banks of new fallen snow, of soft earth and soft winds. The intimation is of fresh odors and thickets full of warblers, of perfumes from blossoming thorns, of sap running again and the nimbus of brown in the woods changing to the nimbus of green. All this with the frost tugging at the house timbers at night and the white drifts dazzling and blinding in the very sunlight which suggests their disappearance and the re-emergence of the green with song and perfumed beauty. World's Greatest Prayer Meeting to Be Held in Chicago

By the Rev. W. B. Norton.

Prayer meetings to the number of 5,200, having as supervisors or leaders 16,200 persons, will be held tomorrow evening in all sections of Chicago in preparation for the Billy Sunday tabernacle campaign in March. The meetings will be held on Monday and Friday evenings for twelve weeks, with the exception that after the tabernacle meetings begin, March 23, the neighborhoods nearest the tabernacle will change the time of holding their meetings from the evening to 10 a. m.

The prayer meetings are under the general direction of the Rev. Otis G. Dale, who was brought to Chicago from Los Angeles, where he supervised a similar work for the Sunday campaign in that city. Chicago is divided into thirty districts and each district into twelve sections, or 360 in all. These districts and sections will each be presided over by a pastor of some church, with a few exceptions where a church is temporarily without a pastor, when a deaconess or other official church worker will have charge of a section. All divisions will have a pastor in charge.

Each of the 360 sections is divided into fifteen neighborhoods or prayer meeting centers. The neighborhoods are each cared for by three workers, usually one man and two women, who extend invitations to the meetings. Hundreds of thousands of written invitations will be sent out. In the windows of at least 2,000 homes cards announcing the meetings will be hung tomorrow morning.

The meetings begin at 8 p. m. and continue to 8:30 p. m. There are to be no addresses made; the time is to be occupied in singing and prayer. No recognition of church denominations is to be made. Persons of all denominations and of no denomination in every neighborhood will be invited to the prayer meeting. To quote Dr. Dale in describing the plan, "It is to be the largest concerted, concentrated prayer movement ever undertaken anywhere in the world."

Nearly 800 members were added to the Holy Name society of the Catholic archdiocese of Chicago during the preceding week. The branches established and their membership were: Visitation, 450; St. Thomas Apostle, 75; St. Catherine of Siena, 110; St. Jerome, 150. A branch is expected to be established this week at St. Barbara's, Brookfield. Every branch of the Holy Name society has in it a Big Brother committee to assist in caring for boys and young men who need special religious care. Bishop A. J. McGivock is spiritual director and the Rev. J. W. Morrison is assistant spiritual director.

The Rev. Irving P. Johnson

Dr. Johnson, who is bishop coadjutor of Colorado, will be the first speaker at the Lenten services of the Protestant Episcopal church, which will begin Wednesday in the Inter Ocean building, 37 West Monroe street. The change from the Majestic theater, where the Lenten services have been held for several years, was considered advisable because of heatless Mondays and the order closing theaters on Tuesdays. The meetings will begin at 12:10 and close at 12:30. Bishop Johnson will also speak Thursday, Friday, and Saturday noon. To the church club was committed the task of providing the place of meeting and arranging for the ushering, advertising, and other features of promotion.

The program today at the various departments of the Y. M. C. A. is as follows: Sears-Roebuck, 4 p. m.; "International Americanism," Prof. A. N. Slaten; Hyde Park, "No Politics for Potsdam," S. J. Duncan Clark; North avenue-Larrabee, "Lincoln," Herman Helmsman; Wabash avenue, colored, "Religion and Thrift," F. T. Lane; "Poems of Alaska and Canada," readings, Francis Labadie; Wilson avenue, "Fathers and Sons," Fred A. Cross; by and "War Experience," R. H. Osborne.

"Get acquainted with yourself. Get chummy with your soul." These are Lenten suggestions from the New World, the Catholic weekly.

The Rev. Albert Joseph McCartney, pastor of the Kenwood Evangelical church, Greenwood avenue and Forty-sixth street, will be absent from his pulpit until March 10. He left Feb. 4 to engage in Y. M. C. A. work at Camp Kearney, Cal. He will preach Feb. 17 and 24 in the First Presbyterian church, Pasadena, and on March 3 at Leland Stanford university.

The Third Presbyterian church, Ashland boulevard and Ogden avenue, has called the Rev. William B. Lamp of the First Presbyterian church, Winfield, Kas., as pastor, and he has accepted. He is expected to begin his pastorate here March 20. The last preceding pastor of the Third church, the Rev. Martin D. Hardin, has gone to France in connection with the Y. M. C. A. war work.

ART By Louise James Bargelt

Davies Collection to Be Exhibited at the Arts Club

WE are soon to have the loan collection of Arthur B. Davies, which has been hanging in the Maoboth galleries in New York, here in Chicago at the Arts Club, here in Chicago at the Arts Club, here in Chicago at the Arts Club.

The exhibition of the Chicago artists will open at the Art Institute the last of this week. The alumni exhibition has been taken down to make way for this display and all preparations are in order for the paintings of Chicagoans.

There have been a few changes made in the various galleries in the last few days. The print room, which has been redecorated in soft, fresh tones is being new with etchings and dry points by Donald Shaw MacLaughlin, Auguste Leplat, Robert F. Blum, Mary Cassatt, and Albany E. Howarth.

Mr. MacLaughlin has prints of Aesop, that pleasure palace in the foothills of the Alps. This Aesop was also one of Browning's favorite abodes, his first love among Italian cities as he has somewhere called it.

Since one step just from sea to land—I found you, loved you, yet feared you—For natural objects seemed to stand palpably before them.

Then there are his "Road Songs," some of them from Venice, others of Tuscany origin. In one of them he also makes one hear the heavy rumbling along a leafy avenue, which, "like the sky, is a glamour of coruscating sunlight."

In Gunaus hall there is a collection of illuminated manuscripts, some of them dating back a thousand years, and all owning considerable interest to persons with a liking for antiquities of this sort.

Among the men who have contributed to this exhibition are Charles L. Hutchinson, Dr. Frank W. Gunaus, Edward E. Ayer and C. L. Ricketts.

ASTRONOMY

On Christmas day, 1758, when Halley had been in his grave for seventeen years, observers watching the point in the sky where he foretold it would be seen, discovered it returning. It has since visited the sun during the years 1835 and 1910, and will come again in 1985.

At its last approach to the sun Halley's comet came unusually close to the earth, and on the night of May 18, 1910, we passed through its tail, and for a few hours we had an inside view of it. At this time its bright head was in the glow of the setting sun while its tail streamed out into the morning sky.

After this Halley spent a great deal of time studying comets, and computed the orbits of a score or more. Among the old records he found references to a bright comet which appeared regularly every seventy-six years, and had done so since the year 11 B. C. He worked out the details of its orbit, and predicted that near the end of 1765 it would again be visible.
