Pigeon Lake, Wis., was the familiar vacation choice of Bill and Mary Molloy and their children. Muggie, Katie, Bobby, Danny and Billy, 304 E. Walnut. They spent two weeks at the cottage near the home of Mary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kirsch. Holiday activities centered around swimming and water skiing, plus camping out for the boys.

Aster the other Molloy had left for home. Billy spent an extra week with his grandparents, returning July 22, in time to celebrate his 10th birthday with his family.

Marianne and John Muno, 274 S. Wheeling, welcomed houseguests on the two successive weekends of John's vacation. First was John's service buddy, Don Larabee and family from

New Hampshire. The following week another friend from the service, Ron Trainor and family arrived from Tomah, Wis. Midweek overnight guests were former neighbors, Shirley and Kent Heffield and daughters of Littleton, Colo. The visitors' stay was enhanced by the Muncos' newly acquired backyard pool.

CHUCK AND Judy Hunt's latest venture into international cuisine was a Hawaiian luau at their 120 Highland home Saturday night. As the main dish, Judy served raw fish and two finger pots to guests Leanne and Ray Spletzer, 160 Sunrise, and Dick and Judy Spletzer and Nancy and Larry Fuller of Wheaton, who brought additional polynesian delicacies for the feast. The exotic mood was furthered by Hawaiian music and the appearance of the host, whose native costume exactly matched the flowered tablecloth.

A motley crew gathered at Wolf and Highland on July 22 to celebrate the seventh birthday of Robby McEstes, in pirate fashion. During the afternoon of outdoor fun and games, Dirk Krueger, Greg Jones, Scott Spletzer, Gary Hunt, Bruce Byrne, Chris Vincent, Greg and Steven Leo, Mike and Rick Gierke, Peter Toporek and sisters, Carri and Debbie wore festive pirate hats, fashioned from colorful comic paper by their mother, Lynn McEstes.

Robby had been feted a day earlier at a Sunday cookout attended by grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Adams and Mrs. Rose McEstes, and former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller of Richmond, Ill. A welcome is extended to Leroy and Cora Tansey. They moved to 127 N. Wolf on July 1.

They pitched their tents round the campfire at Warren Dunes State Park in Michigan. Lake Michigan swimming and hiking in the dunes occupied the campers during their stay. Though the Browns and the Weidners vacation came at an end after five days, the Schuetz clan remained an additional four days.

Jim and Jean Norris, 167 7th, are home from a two-week vacation in Winneconne, Wis., where they and their sons, Jimmy and Danny, stayed in a cabin on the Wolf River. Jim caught 45 pounds of fish in three days. Though Jean and the boys enjoyed the nearby beach, the high point of their holiday was a one-day side trip to Mackinac Island.

Best wishes in their new home are extended to Gordon and Charlene Helton and their offspring, Laura, Kim, Chris and Sean, who recently moved to Libertyville from 30 6th St. Former neighbors were delighted to learn of the safe arrival of another Helton, Ann Mary, on July 17. ## Charge Three With Dragging

Three local men were charged with drag racing in Wheeling this week after they chose to race their cars on a deserted road — deserted except for a policeman.

Senobio Velazquez, 624 Bryant, Barrington; Inez Ruiz, 200 Wheeling Road, Wheeling, and Robert Tellez, 125 W. Palatine Road, Palatine, were arrested by Wheeling Patrolman John Hermes at 8 p.m. Monday.

THE THREE individuals were stopped by Hermes as he was acting as a special security guard over construction work being done near Wheeling Road and Mercantile Court.

HERMES SAID he saw the three cars lined up across Wheeling Road and then saw a white flag rise and fall before the cars raced toward him. As they continued on the road where it changes from asphalt to gravel, Hermes stepped out into the street and brought them to a halt.
