Dear Doctor Sprunger:

I recently wrote to you, saying that I expected to have sent to you two used Urantia books. One will come from my Sister, (who lives in Calif.) and the other was to have come from Phil Hannum who lives here in Kansas City.

There has been a slight change. I had not heard from Mr. Hannum for a long time, and somehow I had come to believe that the book I had lent him meant nothing to him. But when I recently returned here I had a nice talk with him, and I could see instantaneously that, unlike so many people I have contacted, he has gotten the full impact of it's message. It has gone straight to his heart. I was so overjoyed at his acceptance of the book that I forthwith gave it to him outright.

This leaves me without a personal copy of my own, so I'm ordering another immediately. However, due to the fact that I have been travelling so much, I don't expect to use this newly-ordered book for quite awhile, so I'm having it sent to you in place of the used book Mr. Hannum was scheduled to send you. You should get this new book, which I'm lending to you indefinitely, within two weeks. It will be mailed via Aola Smith out of Chicago.

My continued best wishes to you and yours.

Sincerely,

Gerald Dunn

Dear Dr. Spranger,

Your introductory treatise sounds most interesting and useful. I have long since considered the need. When you finish it, kindly send a copy to me and a copy to Mr. Phil Hannum who is also of my address.

Bill me for both copies if there is any charge.

Best wishes,

Lorale Dunk
