The Rev. Meredith J. Sprunger, Ph.D.
215 N. Slate St.
Culver, Ind.

Dear Dr. Sprunger:

Just a note to tell you that I appreciated the privilege of meeting with your group last Monday morning and hope that the lines of communication between us can be kept open.

It occurs to me that we did not deal with one basic question. As you know, Christianity is an historical religion and because of that the bases of revelation can be tested by scholarship. It seems to me extremely important that the source of the Urantia "revelations" be set forth in any serious discussion of its claims. To say that there is no historical basis for the "revelations" is to say that it differs radically from the biblical understanding of the way in which God acts.

I would appreciate your reaction to this question and also any further reactions which your group had to our meeting last Monday.

Sincerely yours,
