To the Founders, Director and Advisor and the Faculty of the Boulder school:
Thanks for the recent mailing of your latest brochure! We are surely interested in all you are accomplishing there and are considering attending.

Up through recent years as we became more familiar with the highly treasured fifth epochal revelation we began to produce varied graphic depictions and portrayals of the sublime concepts contained in the Papers and will soon be conducting exhibits along with other materials we will be introducing as part of the Life Extension Strategies we have been engaged in during the past thirty years or so. In conjunction with such exhibits workshops will be held wherein multi-board, multi-strategy group games will be employed along with instructing others regarding participating in mutual attainment (non-competitive field games. You may find the latter games to be an adjunct to your own course of study. These games are scheduled to be conducted on a wide scale as a compliment to national competitive sports. Mutual Attainment games foster and induce greater cooperation between participants encouraging 'group attainment and underscoring the unsurpassing benefits derived from joint efforts.

Several novel Mutual Attainment strategies (sequences) have been prepared and we welcome being able to share such strategies with the Boulder School as part of your recreational and reversion program along with conducting an exhibition of graphic materials. Printed materials should be completed soon. We look forward to receiving copies of your edited video and audio cassettes and other study aids and are willing to exchange services including perhaps being able to attend The Boulder School on an exchange basis. How feasible is this?

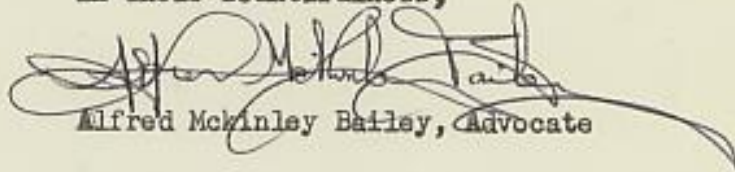

As a result of our persistent endeavors in developing group board and field games, life extension strategies materials etc. we will be soon offering novel career opportunities to persons across the country and will be pleased to offer such opportunities to persons who have attended the Boulder School or who have been actively involved in one or more of the study groups held across the country. We are desirous of working with responsible and cooperative persons primarily. Our outreach has also included broadcasting on a wide range of subjects of general interest and multi-media productions are being readied. Our primary concern is readying the general citizenry for enjoyment of a more longevous mode of life in the areas of sound decision making and general health-care. Matters pertaining to nutrition need also be addressed and all such aspects are touched upon in our workshops.

We look forward to presenting some of our graphic materials at upcoming conventions as they are held at various places and times across the country and around the world as months approach and will be embarking upon resource gathering strategies to this end so as to keep costs at a minimal in behalf of those who attend. Meanwhile groups who wish to assist in defraying current expenses by the inclusion of an honorarium-obtained from registration fees-are invited to consider the matter. We will be forwarding photographic samples of some of our portrayals soon.

* In completing such renditions we are currently in need of instrumentation and would like to contact musicians who can set the lyrics and melodies composed to music. A guitarist (s) and Pianists and persons with synthesizers along with flutists, violinists and percussionists can greatly assist at this stage. Also persons with recording and video taping equipment can be of equal assistance. All such productions will be presented to the public at concerts and thus can be instrumental in the supplementing of incomes during upcoming weeks. A loan of taping equipment will also be appreciated and we are willing to exchange such items for prints.
