

All quotations, unless otherwise indicated, are from The URANTIA Book c 1955 and are used by permission. Interpretations & opinions expressed herein are those of the authors & do not necessarily represent those of URANTIA Foundation.

Some Startling Speculations

Since I have realized that our planetary supervisors got permission from the supervising personalities of Satania to inaugurate measures to foster and conserve the higher spiritual types of Urantia races, I've been wondering what they inaugurated, or are in the process of inaugurating. I'm sure after having got permission they wouldn't just sit down and do nothing. (1207)

We know that in times of political crisis the Most High Observer seizes control, and becomes the Most High Regent. The Book tells us he did this recently (1201). But he does not have to have permission for this, and his domain is the political. "Some day civil rulers will learn that the Most Highs rule in the kingdoms of men." (1488)

So it's probably the Angels of the Races working with the Race Commissioners, Midwayers, Life Carriers and maybe the Reserve Corps of Destiny that have inaugurated the measures. In fact, we read on page 1253 that the race commissioners are very active on Urantia - and that the Most High Observer (regent) acts as their advisory director.

And on page 411 re read: "Race Commissioners function in an endless series of planetary crises and serve as the articulate expression of whole groups of struggling mortals.

On page 736 we read of the disappointment of the Life Carriers because of the growth of so many bacteria, but they were optimistic because they realized "that the subsequent admixture of the Adamic life plasm would so reinforce the resisting powers of the resulting blended race as to make it practically immune to all diseases produced by the vegetable type organism. But our hopes were doomed to disappointment owing to the misfortune of the Adamic default."

But, of course, some peoples did get some of the Adamic blood through the Andites. On page 905 it tells of the present day races on Urantia and which had andite blood.

And on page 725 we read: "Isolated in Africa, the Indigo people, like the red man, received little or none of the race elevation which would have been derived from the infusion of the Adamic stock" Also read 871.

In our country we have few true blacks. Most are bi-racial. They have received to a greater or less extent, infusion of Andite blood

AIDS

Not everyone who carries the AIDS virus is certain to get the disease. An estimated 1.5 million to 4 million Americans have come into contact with the AIDS virus but remain free of symptoms. British researchers have just learned that the vulnerability of an individual, or of an entire ethnic group, to the lethal virus depends at least in part on genes. A team led by Lesley-Jane Eales of St. Mary's Hospital Medical School in London looked at six varieties of an inherited protein found on all human cell surfaces. The researchers concluded that one of the protein variations makes the people who carry it highly resistant to AIDS, while another makes them highly vulnerable. The other four variations fall in between.

The work may shed light on why the disease is spreading so rapidly among heterosexuals in Central Africa. Blacks from that region are nearly 10 times likelier than Caucasians to carry the "most susceptible" protein. Even people with the "most resistant" form of the protein aren't entirely safe from AIDS, so the practical value of a test is unclear. Lab technicians and medical professionals who work with the virus could be screened, says geneticist Stephen Daiger of the University of Texas in Houston. But he warns that information from the test "might actually be dangerous to those in high-risk groups, such as homosexuals, if it leads them to think they are protected when in fact they are not."

Do you suppose highly resistant types of the protein could be from an infusion of Adamic blood? Of course, resistance to bacteria was only one of the things the Adamic blood was supposed to be good for; also material progress and intellectual enlightenment (821)

Some members of our group say I shouldn't be writing these things. That I should hold off until there is more research, more proof. But there is no proof. The U-Book is our authority. And it just gives us clues to speculate on.

The purpose of this newsletter is to make people speculate.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

1. God the Father is no respecter of persons, He loves every individual personality the same (of course, if a person finally rejects God, and the Thought Adjuster takes off (1229) he is unreal and even God can't love a

We know that in times of political crisis the Most High Observer seizes control, and becomes the Most High Regent. The Book tells us he did this recently (1201). But he does not have to have permission for this, and his domain is the political. "Some day civil rulers will learn that the Most Highs rule in the kingdoms of men." (1488)

So it's probably the Angels of the Races working with the Race Commissioners, Midwayers, Life Carriers and maybe the Reserve Corps of Destiny that have inaugurated the measures. In fact, we read on page 1253 that the race commissioners are very active on Urantia - and that the Most High Observer (regent) acts as their advisory director.

And on page 411 re read: "Race Commissioners function in an endless series of planetary crises and serve as the articulate expression of whole groups of struggling mortals.

On page 736 we read of the disappointment of the Life Carriers because of the growth of so many bacteria, but they were optimistic because they realized "that the subsequent admixture of the Adamic life plasm would so reinforce the resisting powers of the resulting blended race as to make it practically immune to all diseases produced by the vegetable type organism. But our hopes were doomed to disappointment owing to the misfortune of the Adamic default."

But, of course, some peoples did get some of the Adamic blood through the Andites. On page 905 it tells of the present day races on Urantia and which had andite blood.

And on page 725 we read: "Isolated in Africa, the Indigo people, like the red man, received little or none of the race elevation which would have been derived from the infusion of the Adamic stock" Also read 871.

In our country we have few true blacks. Most are bi-racial. They have received to a greater or less extent, infusion of Andite blood. In South Africa they would be called colored.

So after trying to become more and more familiar with the U-Book and what it's trying to tell us, we begin to watch and listen and read to learn what's going on in the world, now that we know "Urantia is now quivering on the very brink of one of its most amazing and enthralling epochs of social readjustment, moral quickening, and spiritual enlightenment" (pg. 2082).

The magazines and newspapers are full of articles for us to speculate on.

For instance, here is an excerpt from an article in U.S. News and World Report:

the lethal virus depends at least in part on genes. A team led by Lesley-Jane Eales of St. Mary's Hospital Medical School in London looked at six varieties of an inherited protein found on all human cell surfaces. The researchers concluded that one of the protein variations makes the people who carry it highly resistant to AIDS, while another makes them highly vulnerable. The other four variations fall in between.

The work may shed light on why the disease is spreading so rapidly among heterosexuals in Central Africa. Blacks from that region are nearly 10 times likelier than Caucasians to carry the "most susceptible" protein. Even people with the "most resistant" form of the protein aren't entirely safe from AIDS, so the practical value of a test is unclear. Lab technicians and medical professionals who work with the virus could be screened, says geneticist Stephen Daiger of the University of Texas in Houston. But he warns that information from the test "might actually be dangerous to those in high-risk groups, such as homosexuals, if it leads them to think they are protected when in fact they are not."

Do you suppose highly resistant types of the protein could be from an infusion of Adamic blood? Of course, resistance to bacteria was only one of the things the Adamic blood was supposed to be good for; also material progress and intellectual enlightenment (821)

Some members of our group say I shouldn't be writing these things. That I should hold off until there is more research, more proof. But there is no proof. The U-Book is our authority. And it just gives us clues to speculate on.

The purpose of this newsletter is to make people speculate.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

1. God the Father is no respecter of persons, He loves every individual personality the same (of course, if a person finally rejects God, and the Thought Adjuster takes off (1229) he is unreal and even God can't love a Nothing.

2. Providence (impersonal presence of Deity, Almighty Supreme and Paradise Trinity 1305) manifests regard for the whole - the evolutionary growth of some total - nation, planet, or other.

3.

3. Death can't hurt the dying. It's a blessing.

Is The World Ready for the URANTIA Book?

I've heard that the Revelators said it wasn't. The Book is given to prepare teachers and leaders. So it's important that all who can and will accept it should find it.

I suppose that means teachers and leaders for the New Age. On page 2082 we read these thrilling words: "A new and fuller revelation of the religion of Jesus is destined to conquer an empire of materialistic secularism and to overthrow a world sway of mechanistic naturalism. Urantia is now (1935 AD) quivering on the very brink of one of its most amazing and enthralling epochs of social readjustment, moral quickening and spiritual enlightenment."

The world wasn't ready for Jesus, either. They crucified him.

But some were ready. Some believed and passed the gospel on in the form of Christianity — the religion about Jesus — which cocoon is now about to metamorphose into the beautiful butterfly of the religion of Jesus.

What is this religion of Jesus? He taught that all persons are children of God — if they by faith accept this sonship — and thereby they are brothers in the Kingdom of God. Being in this Kingdom means two things. On page 1593 we read: "Jesus laid great emphasis on what he called the two truths of first import in the teachings of the Kingdom, and they are: ① the attainment of salvation by faith and faith alone, associated with ② the revolutionary teaching of the attainment of human liberty through the sincere recognition of truth." (You shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.)

What is the prevailing intellectual and philosophical climate of Europe and America? On page 2081 the Book tells us that it is decidedly secular — humanistic.

But that is the prevailing climate — the majority of the people. They aren't ready for the Book. (But many are.)

Again on page 2081 we read: "Materialism denies God, secularism simply ignores him; at least that was the earlier attitude. More recently, secularism has assumed a more militant attitude, assuming to take the place of religion whose totalitarian bondage it onetime resisted. Twentieth-century secularism tends to affirm that man does not need God. But beware! this godless philosophy of human society will lead only to unrest, animosity, unhappiness, war, and world-wide disaster."

Judge Brevard, in Alabama, must have realized that when he ruled on the test books,

I wonder what measures our celestial government has taken we read these thrilling words: A new and fuller revelation of the religion of Jesus is destined to conquer an empire of materialistic secularism and to overthrow a world sway of mechanistic naturalism. Urantia is now (1935 AD) quivering on the very brink of one of its most amazing and enthralling epochs of social readjustment, moral quickening and spiritual enlightenment."

The world wasn't ready for Jesus, either. They crucified him.

But some were ready. Some believed and passed the gospel on in the form of Christianity — the religion about Jesus — which cocoon is now about to metamorphose into the beautiful butterfly of the religion of Jesus.

What is this religion of Jesus? He taught that all persons are children of God — if they by faith accept this sonship — and thereby they are brothers in the Kingdom of God. Being in this Kingdom means two things. On page 1593 D we read: Jesus laid great emphasis on what he called the two truths of first import in the teachings of the Kingdom, and they are: ① the attainment of salvation by faith and faith alone, associated with ② the revolutionary teaching of the attainment of human liberty through the sincere recognition of truth. (You shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

What is the prevailing intellectual and philosophical climate of Europe and America? On page 2081 the Book tells us that it is decidedly secular — humanistic.

But that is the prevailing climate — the majority of the people. They aren't ready for the Book. (But many are.)

Again on page 2081 we read: "Materialism denies God, secularism simply ignores him; at least that was the earlier attitude. More recently, secularism has assumed a more militant attitude, assuming to take the place of religion whose totalitarian bondage it onetime resisted. Twentieth-century secularism tends to affirm that man does not need God. But beware! this godless philosophy of human society will lead only to unrest, animosity, unhappiness, war, and world-wide disaster."

Judge Brevard, in Alabama, must have realized that when he ruled on the textbooks,

I wonder what measures our celestial government has taken "to foster and conserve the higher spiritual types of the Urantia races"? 1207
To help make Urantia ready for its Book.

HELEN B HUTCHINSON
1638 HIGHLAND AVE
KNOXVILLE TN 37916

Ruined Word Department:

Thomas Sowell says minority is a word that has lost its meaning. It no longer means less than 50%. Now it means only someone you're sorry for. Bureaucrats don't call Asians and Jews minority.

Some Comments on the June Newsletter

Several people expressed appreciation for the article Unconditional Love in June.

I'm afraid some got the wrong impression. I made the statement "We should have unconditional love for every person on earth." Notice I did not say every body. There are some spiritually dead bodies walking around on Urantia. (1229-30) Jesus called them animals (dogs, swine, foxes, vipers). Their Thought Adjusters are gone, and they are no longer persons. They have been going against the grain of the universe, and have become spiritually unreal. Even God can't love a Nothing.

On page 41 we read: "- - persons can only love and hate other persons."

On page 1999 we read: "Jesus had taught his apostles the uselessness of casting their pearls before swine, - - -"

Notice the word uselessness. It's not going to do any good. It a waste of time.

Granted, it's hard sometimes to determine the dividing line - but in some cases it is very obvious.

(Yeah. 'Twas too good to be true -
Helen loving the iniquitous)

A Bad Article

In a recent popular magazine I read an article about how to make people like you. It said, "Act as if you like them."!

I know women who have been trained as social workers, and I can tell that that is the attitude of some. We treat old ladies this way, and they will love us. Deliver me from that kind of phoney friendship. It's from a self-centered egocentric person. She's not thinking about the old lady and what is good for her. She's thinking about how she can make a great impression. She's looking inward. Egocentric, not altruistic.

When Jesus "went about doing good" he was concentrating on the people he met. He didn't say to himself: "Do these people see me the Son of God, the Mighty Creator of the Universe, condescending to walk down their street? I'll do a few things for them and make them see how great I am!"

No, he wasn't concentrating on himself and the impression he was

Notice I did not say every body. There are some spiritual bodies walking around on Vrantia. (1229-30) Jesus called them animals (dogs, swine, foxes, vipers). Their Thought Adjusters are gone, and they are no longer persons. They have been going against the grain of the universe, and have become spiritually unreal. Even God can't love a Nothing.

On page 41 we read: " - - persons can only love and hate other persons."

On page 1999 we read: "Jesus had taught his apostles the uselessness of casting their pearls before swine, - -"

Notice the word uselessness. It's not going to do any good. It a waste of time.

Granted, it's hard sometimes to determine the dividing line - but in some cases it is very obvious.

(Yeah. 'Twas too good to be true -
Helen loving the iniquitous)

A Bad Article

In a recent popular magazine I read an article about how to make people like you. It said, "Act as if you like them."!

I know women who have been trained as social workers, and I can tell that that is the attitude of some. We treat old ladies this way, and they will love us. Deliver me from that kind of phoney friendship. It's from a self-centered, egocentric person. She's not thinking about the old lady and what is good for her. She's thinking about how she can make a great impression. She's looking inward. Egocentric, not altruistic.

When Jesus "went about doing good" he was concentrating on the people he met. He didn't say to himself: "Do these people see me the Son of God, the Mighty Creator of the Universe, condescending to walk down their street? I'll do a few things for them and make them see how great I am!"

No, he wasn't concentrating on himself and the impression he was making. He was genuinely concerned for their well-being.

A shallow, selfish egotist may make some people think she's "such a nice, sweet thing."

Let us not forget the birthday of our great nation - the bastion of freedom for the world. It is even used as an example for the world. (1489)
God, help us.

