Dear Bill:

In response to your letter about the words "mussels" and "muscles", the dictionary defines "mussels" as fresh-water mollusks and gives "muscles" as a variant of this spelling.

I can't find the second reference but have found the one reference on Page 676. I will have Edith attempt to find the other reference to see how it is spelled on another page.

Would you want me to write to the Finnish inquirer when we find the other reference?
